

A vertical strip of musical notation, likely a guitar tab, consisting of many lines of staff notation with notes and symbols. The notation is dense and appears to be a single melodic line or a specific guitar part. It includes various note values, stems, and possibly fret numbers or other performance instructions. The strip is oriented vertically on the page.