

A vertical strip of musical notation, including staves with notes and guitar tablature. The notation is dense and appears to be a single page of a score, oriented vertically. It features various musical symbols such as notes, rests, and stems, along with what looks like guitar-specific notation (possibly tablature or fret numbers) interspersed with the standard musical staves. The strip is centered horizontally on the page.