

A vertical stack of musical notation systems. Each system consists of a treble clef staff with musical notes and a guitar tablature staff with fret numbers. The notation is arranged in a single column, with each system containing a pair of staves. The music appears to be a guitar piece, with various note values and fret numbers indicated. The systems are stacked from top to bottom, with some systems showing more complex rhythmic patterns and others showing simpler melodic lines.